GOLD STAR**

I would like to brag on our Principals and School Finance Clerks for perfect attendance. All were present for our annual RedBook Training last week.

Here is the latest on Martin County High School. The classroom section is now up to the second floor and the roof supports are being placed. The crane on the right of the building is lifting the metal beams into place.

The floor slab for the cafeteria and kitchen was poured just this week.

To date the cost is $7.7 million and lots of progress is being made. Let's hope the weather cooperates and we keep the good work going.

Also, planning continues for the construction of our new Area Technology Center with a completion date of approximately the same as completion of the new high school. Follow along with the construction on our webpage, here's the link;
