

Martin Co. Schools

February 2017

Kraig Grayson

Sheldon Clark Bass Fishing Team Ready for Second Season

One of the fastest growing high school sports over the past several years has been competitive bass fishing. Sheldon Clark High fielded its first team in 2016 and is more than ready for 2017.

In its first year the Cardinal fishing team enjoyed respectable success. Two of the six, two man teams qualified to participate in the state championship at Kentucky Lake last year.

Michael Marcum, IES principal and coach of the fishing team, is looking forward to the new season. "Now that we have kind of got our feet wet we think that we can really up our performance for 2017", Marcum commented.

Each school can send 6, two angler teams to the regional tournament held at Cave Run. From there the top 30 teams advance to the state championship. The goal would be to place all 6 teams in the top 30. Go Cardinals.

2016-17 School Year Quickly Flying By

With roughly 67 instructional days remaining in the current calendar and about 50 or so days before testing can begin, the year is whizzing by. The last day for students is set for May 17. Martin County had missed only 4 days of school due to weather as of February 6. Normal years would have had the school system closed for triple that number at the point. The full spring break, set for April 3 – 7, looks like it will be a lock to remain.

Every Day
Counts
Attendance
Matters